

Nutrition ~ Fitness ~ Wellness

Greetings! 2007 is to be a year of renewed joy and a renewed commitment to impact lives. Everyone is genetically and biochemically unique, so we all need to learn to listen to our body, and give it what it needs to recover and build our health. Our goal is to help people get well and stay well. Remember, it takes time for the body to breakdown as well as time to build back up. Nutrition is not magic and everyone needs wellness.

“Wellness is a celebration of the ability of the human body to heal, restore and maintain itself, with nutrition being the key.”

You can significantly-even dramatically-improve your health by giving your body the nutrition needed to support the cellular restoration process.

“Wellness is when the body becomes rebuilt and functions optimally, beginning at the cellular level. Each of us loses millions of cells all the time, replaced by millions of others that may not be as healthy as those that were lost. This is the root cause of deteriorating health and aging. But wellness slows, and to some extent even reverses, the aging process, restoring health.

If you are truly well you have great vitality, enabling your body to perform optimally and defend itself against just about anything that threatens it. This is true wellness, and it is much greater than merely not being sick.” Eugene Fox

When a simple, safe nutritional supplement offers you the protection of a powerful immune system, why would you not get it and take it?

New Hope, New Health

No matter what the condition, it is truly incredible how the body reacts when supplemented with the known nutrients so lacking in our diets but so very necessary to sustain life.

We are thankful for being just a small part of this process.

Brief review of some highlights from 2006:

- In June, 2006, our nutritional company received the highest listing possible from NASDAQ, a listing as Global Select Market.
- In October, 2006, Forbes Magazine announced the 200 Top Small Companies in America and listed our company as #5 in that ranking! Pretty cool to get that kind of national recognition, especially after being ranked #5 by Business Week in 2005.
- On October 6-7, 2006, the 2nd Annual Glycomics conference was held in The Woodlands, Texas, attended by hundreds of medical professionals, the faculty of which consisted of 14+ medical doctors sharing breakthrough research on glycobiology and cancer, stem cell research, autism, Parkinson's, etc. This was the second of these national conferences on the developing research in the field of glycobiology.

These are just a few of the many exciting things that occurred in 2006 supporting the technology that has caused our nutritional company to continue to shine above so many in the nutritional industry.
